LARRY CROUSE & RYAN MUZIK INDUCTED INTO THE VIKING SPEEDWAY HALL OF FAME

Ryan Muzik & Larry Crouse with Minnesota Vikings Cheerleaders Brooke & Kayla

ALEXANDRIA, MN (August 9th, 2014) - by Scott Searcy

Hall of Fame night is much like an all class reunion at the Viking Speedway. This year's inductees were 1987 Sportsman Champion Larry Crouse and 1987, '88 & '89 Modified Champion Ryan Muzik. Along with the 27th and 28th members, many past Hall of Famers were in attendance as well. Drivers, officials and crew members covering each and every year of Viking Speedway's existence were at the pre-race dinner put on by Winning Edge Graphics. Tonight also marked the one year anniversary of Ollie Buse's death. Ollie passed away the morning of the 2013 Hall of Fame inauguration. He had been battling cancer for many months and he said his goal was to make it to one more Hall of Fame night. God granted him the morning, but knew Ollie would have a better view of the ceremony from above.

The threat of rain may have kept a few of the fans away and a constant mist during the features kept the pits quiet after the races. To many fans, the favorite part of Hall of Fame night is the stories heard from past members. One group of past drivers, including 2009 inductee Jim Nieland, chatted about the early years when Viking was the "High Flyin' 5/8th Mile".

LARRY CROUSE & RYAN MUZIK INDUCTED INTO THE VIKING SPEEDWAY HALL OF FAME

Larry Crouse was honored for his 35 years of support and many accomplishments including the 1987 Sportsman Championship. Crouse served six terms (18 years) on the Viking Speedway Board of Directors with eight of the years as president. He has spent the last 14 years as the track prep & maintenance guy while also helping his son Jeff on his car. Larry won the 2011 and 2013 Super Stock track championships as car owner with Jeff at the wheel of the DQ South sponsored #29*.

Crouse's leadership and dedication to the sport has been a large part of the track's success. If everyone who walked on to the property punched a time card as they came and went, nobody would have logged more hours in the past decade than Larry Crouse. "It's all we do" said Crouse in an Echo Press interview last fall after his selection by the Hall of Fame committee. "We don't hunt, we don't fish, we don't snowmobile, we don't do anything. We race, and it's all we've been doing since 1979. You could say it's a huge part of our lives."

Crouse actually started racing in the summer of 1969 but then took time off to serve our country in the US Army and to start a family. He returned to Viking Speedway in 1979 and raced until 1996 when he turned the driving duties over to his son Jeff. The most memorable years as a driver were the 1987 and 1988 seasons when Larry took the '87 Sportsman championship and battled Kenny Bullick in '88 taking the second spot in a tight points battle. The first memory Crouse shared during his inauguration speech was racing against Bullick in the 80's and 90's.

Though Crouse was one of the top drivers on the track throughout his career, he believes his years on the board of directors and as track president played a larger part in his selection to the Hall of Fame. In talking with members of the selection committee and others within the Viking Speedway, it's well understood that Larry Crouse had three major areas of contribution to the Viking Speedway. His success as a competitor, both driver and car owner; his many hours of service and skill as track prep and maintenance; and his leadership as president and 18 years on the board of directors.

"It's a great feeling because it's been a huge part of my life" Crouse said of the Hall of Fame honor. "I've been out there a long time and to be recognized for being on the board and racing, it's a huge accomplishment and I'm very proud of it. I'm glad to be aboard"

Ryan Muzik enjoyed 25 years of success on the track before he gave up his seat to his son Josh in 2006. Muzik won three Viking Speedway Modified championships (1987, '88 & '89) as well as five other track championships and the 1991 Minnesota State NASCAR championship. Muzik started racing at the Viking Speedway at age 18 in 1983 after wheeling go-carts for seven years. He took his first track championship in his third season of racing at WeeTown Speedway and also won the "Champ of Champs" in Marshfield that same year. His success continued with 6 more track championships at Viking Speedway and Minnkota Raceway from 1987 to '89. In 1991 Muzik won the I-94 Speedway track championship in Sauk Centre.

"It's kind of a big deal" Muzik said when asked by the Echo Press after his selection last fall. "I've been one of these guys where I really don't talk about the success I had too much. I just was never really one to brag about it, but it's a good deal. It makes me proud that it's happening. I know I declined a couple years ago and I almost declined again. I just don't feel like I'm that old yet. I still got a lot of kid left in me, I think."

Muzik declined the Hall of Fame selection in 2010 when the idea was that any drivers elected were done wheeling racecars. Last year the committee made it clear that Hall of Fame members are still welcome to come out of retirement. Muzik, at 48 years old, still has the itch to get back into the yellow #23 at some point down the road. "They basically wanted you to be done racing then, and I didn't really think I was," Muzik said. "I don't plan on being completely done yet and now they have kind of switched the rules where you can race again. I always kind of planned that I still want to do it once in a while."

Ryan's father Tom started racing in 1966 when the Viking Speedway opened. Later, Ardelle Muzik, Ryan's mother, brought the kids to the track each week as they were growing up to cheer on Wayne Kluver and Jim Johnson. One night at the track, Ardelle recalls, her son Greg said "Mom, some day I'm going to be out there racing." Ardelle's response was "Oh no, you're not." Little did she know that two of her sons and three grandsons (Josh Muzik, Dallas Gulbrandson & Shawn Olson) would race at Viking Speedway and her two sons would be in the Hall of Fame.

Josh had a serious wreck in turns 1-2 earlier this season when his rear-end broke entering turn one. Josh rolled, making contact with other cars and at one point was on top of another car. Being day 1 of a double-header, the Muzik crew went to work that night and had the car back on the track for the Sunday show. Ryan is now the wrench man for his son. But he also has a modified he purchased a couple years ago sitting in the shed. It's no secret that Ryan hopes to get behind the wheel and be the first Hall of Fame driver to hit the track again. But whether we see Ryan Muzik in the #23 again or not, we know he has already earned his spot in the Cooperstown of stockcar racing at the Viking Speedway.

KUNZ, S. HUSTON, MASS, BAYER, R. SCHROEDER CAPTURE FIRST VIKING FEATURE WINS OF '14

ALEXANDRIA, MN (Aug 9th, 2014) - Becky Schmitz

The past 49 years at Viking Speedway have led to many great memories for all that have been apart of the racing experience. This past Saturday, Viking Speedway honored two great racers who were a part of making the stories people tell as they walk into the grandstands or the pits. Larry Crouse and Ryan Muzik were inducted into the Viking Speedway Hall of Fame alongside their family and friends. Crouse and Muzik raced for many years and captured several victories, but noted that they could not have done it without their crew members, sponsors, and families. The Kluver Memorial Super Stock Special also crowned a new champion, Dave Mass, out of East Bethel Minnesota. Sponsors for the evening were Winning Edge graphics, Cowing Robards, and Alex Pro Firearms.

The Pure stocks started the evening off with an action packed six lap feature. Brock Volker and Tony Volker led the cars to the green flag. Brock took an early lead while Travis Kunz jumped into the second spot. By turn four, Kunz had taken the lead and started pulling away from the pack. A caution came out with two laps to go and Brendon Scott was pushed back on to the track. The field was reset and Kunz again jumped into the lead. Dustin Karl also charged his way into the action. As Brock Volker spun out in turn four, the checkered flew for Kunz, who captured the feature win for the evening. Heat winner for the night was Travis Kunz.

The Sower Power sponsored WISSOTA Midwest Modifieds filed on to the track for a fifteen lap showdown. Kelly Haack and Shane Kruger led the field to the green flag. As turn one was underway, multiple cars spun out on the back side and a caution was out. Jamie Thorstad and Travis Saurer came into the work area for some quick repairs and the cars lined back up. Kruger and Josh Thoennes took the green while Cody Lee and Jason Hoffman followed close behind. Andrew Bangsund charged his way into the action. Cody Lee positioned himself into the lead with Hoffman hot on his trail. Another caution flew as Bangsund slid off the track. Once back on the track, with fourteen laps to go, Lee again jumped to the lead. Kruger, Hoffman and Bangsund went side by side on the restart. Justin Froemming raced his way into fifth, while Ron and Travis Saurer also charged up the field. With twelve laps to go Blake Boelens spun out and the field was reset. Ron Saurer and Froemming were side by side on the restart. Travis Saurer charged to the inside, passing them both and looking toward the lead. With eleven laps to go another caution was out, sending Bangsund into the pits. With the time limit approaching the laps were cut to five. Lap after lap Lee continued to lead, while Hoffman and Ron Saurer battled for second. Travis Saurer went to the outside past Ron. Jamie Thorstad battled with Shawn Olson for fifth. The checkered flag was out and Lee captured another feature win at the Viking Speedway. Heat winners for the night were Jamie Thorstad, Andrew Bangsund, and Travis Saurer.

The Alex Refrigeration sponsored WISSOTA Super Stocks set the stage for the annual Kluver Memorial Special. With twenty laps on the board, Jeff Crouse and Chris Winter led the pack to the green flag. Jeff Crouse took an early lead while Larry Lund and Dave Shipley claimed second and third. Trevor Saurer took the inside past Shipley, and Dave Mass bolted into the action. Crouse continued to work the field, pulling away while Dave Mass raced his way through the pack passing Shipley. With fourteen laps to go, Dominic Baker reeled in Trevor Saurer challenging him for the third spot. Mass and Lund raced side by side and another caution was out. On the restart, Mass and Crouse raced for the lead. Trevor Saurer passed Larry Lund and then placed himself on the heels of Crouse. Mass pulled away from the field with five to go. Trevor Saurer continued reeling in Crouse with Lund holding fourth. Shipley slid off turn four and another caution was out, the track was reset and Mass again bolted to the lead. Crouse and Lund maintained their positions while Saurer and Mike Peterson went head to head. Flagman Mike Blom raised the checkered flag and the Kluver Memorial feature win went to Dave Mass. The heat winners for the night were Larry Lund, Dave Mass, and Jeff Crouse.

The T&S Electric and Diamond Buick GMC sponsored WISSOTA Modified hit the track with twenty five cars waiting in the wings. Danny Bayer and Brett Hoium led the field to the green flag. Danny Bayer took the lead while Josh Thoennes bolted past Hoium. Jeremy Nelson and Hoium raced for the top spots while Dennis Bitzan and Blake Jegtvg battled for fifth. Jason Thoennes dove to the inside past Bitzan, while Brady Gerdes followed. Jegtvg took the inside passing Hoium. Nelson worked to hold his spot as Jegtvg reeled him in in an attempt to pass on the inside. Bayer continued to lead and with fourteen laps to go a caution was out. The track was reset and Josh Thoennes stayed on the heels of Bayer looking for the lead spot. Jegtvg and Gerdes battled side by side as another yellow flag was thrown. On the restart Thoennes, Nelson and Jegtvg went three wide into turn one with Bayer still in the lead. Gerdes bolted on to the heels of Jegtvg. With nine laps to go Cody Skytland slid off the track and another caution made the cars reset. Another caution was quickly thrown as Cory Tammen, who threw a drive shaft, was hauled off the track. Five laps to go Bayer started pulling away from the field while Jegtvg, Thoennes and Gerdes continue the fight. Three laps to go and another caution shook up the action as Jake Wildman slid off the track. Jason Thoennes took the outside past Nelson. With the white flag out, Gerdes and Josh Thoennes continued their battle side by side. Crossing the finish line was Danny Bayer capturing his first feature win of the season and a trip into victory lane. The heat winners for the night were Dennis Bitzan, Dave Mass and Cody Skytland.

The WISSOTA street stocks set up for a twelve lap rumble. Jim Williams and Scott Huston led the pack of eleven cars to the green flag. Huston took an early lead while Adam Burrows and Ryan Satter both raced their way into the action. Justin Vogel charged on to the heels of Satter, where the bumper to bumper battle began. Huston continued to lead as Satter suffered a slip and slid back to sixth. A yellow flag was thrown on lap eight. With the track cleaned up and reset, Huston took the green flag with Burrows on the inside in attempt to pass. Williams stayed on the heels of Burrows with Satter and Vogel battling head to head. Lap after lap, the top five stayed bumper to bumper with Huston in the lead. Burrows continued to reel in Huston and as the white flag came out, Vogel slid to sixth. The checkered flag and feature win went to Scott Huston with Burrows and Williams right behind. Heat winners for the night were Ryan Satter and Scott Huston.

Napa of Glenwood sponsored WISSOTA Late Models filed on to the track with thirteen cars and twenty laps on the board. Jeremy Keller and Rick Schroeder led the pack of cars to the green flag. Schroeder took an early lead while Cody Skytland bolted on the heels of Jeremy Keller. Jeff Wildung took the inside placing himself in fifth. Scott Lehn and Wildung raced side by side, while Keller and Skytland battled it out for second and third. Skytland took the inside past Keller and Wildung reeled in the front runners. Eric Breeschoten charged his way into the fifth spot while Schroeder continued to lead. With nine laps to go, Jeremy Keller held off Wildung and Skytland raced to shorten the lead of Schroeder. With seven laps to go, Schroeder raced through lap traffic and Skytland continued to hunt him down. Breeschoten bolted his way on to the heels of Wildung and as the checkered flag came out, Rick Schroeder captured the feature win, followed by Skytland and Wildung. Heat winners for the evening were Cody Skytland and Eric Breeschoten.

SCHROEDER CONSTRUCTION FAN OF THE WEEK ARDELLE MUZIK

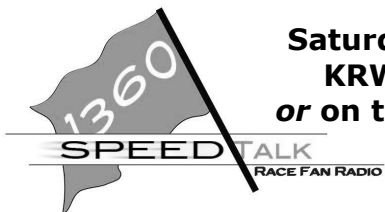

Ardelle started coming to the Viking Speedway in 1966 to watch her husband Tom race and as a fan of Wayne Kluver! Ardelle would bring her 7 kids every Saturday night! Other drivers she rooted for were Jim Johnson, Jerry Geris, Gary Reents and many more! Two of Ardelle's son's became racers & members of the HOF, Greg and Ryan Muzik! 3 of her Grandson's, Shawn Olson, Josh Muzik and Dallas Gulbrandson have raced at Viking.

~ Hall of Fame Extra ~

By Julie Haak -- Years ago my brother's would travel & do some racing in other towns. The neighbor guy was one of Greg's pitmen and his son loved going with and helping his dad and Greg at the races. One day they were getting ready to go when the son of Greg's pit man asked if he could go with him and Greg out of town racing. His dad said "no," because there was no room. Well, when Greg & Mr. Frick were getting things ready to go, they were away from the car long enough to give the little boy, who wanted to go with so bad, a chance to sneak inside of the Number 18 car that was being towed by a tow bar & log chain. To their surprise, when they reached their destination, out jumped the little boy that had rode for miles in the race car being towed. Needless to say, the dad was not happy with his son and he told him that he would have to ride in the back in the dark since he hadn't listened. The boy got lucky because Ryan with the number 23 car was there also and he gave the little boy a ride home with them since he had extra room....I love teasing the little boy from way back then about it now that he's grown up!!!

NASCAR MODIFIED DRIVERS Ryan Muzik (23), Cullen Brown (54) and Gary Haugdahl (85) battled for position in the 3-4 turn last Saturday night in one of their heat races.

RYAN MUZIK the defending NASCAR Modified point champion at the Viking Speedway received a check from Stu Olson following his win in the Busch Dash last Saturday night. Track steward Dick Block waved the checkered flag. Muzik recorded a clean sweep in his division.
